

Blooming Hearts

Young Liars

You're far far far away
High above, Atlas Mountains
I write write write it all
My heart is melting
For things I cannot do, things I cannot touch
First night I've slept in days,
My room is empty
Cold stone is at my feet,
Fine tiling on the wall
Reach right into this book
Bring my comfort,
The eyes that I love
It's all what you do
With futures that you've seen
Time will take a toll
But we're gonna be okay
Oh, and it was horrible to see you like that
Can't escape our fate,
One of us will pass
I'm far far far away, wandering
High above, high above
Soft unsteady ground
Lose my balance
Fall into the snow
It's all what you do
With futures that you've seen
Time will take a toll
But we're gonna be okay
Oh, and it was horrible to see you like that
Can't escape our fate
One of us will pass
Lovely night
The stars ignite
Light them up with me
Light them up with me
Fill the street and sky with the morning fire
We are born again out of blooming hearts [x2]
