Silent

Violet Indiana

Tired of the emptiness
Fakeness trying to justify
Reasons they repulse you now
Casualties stamped on their kneesDismiss them now
'Cause you miss me now
Should have thought about me
When you were feeling freeSo over you, whatever you do
Don't think I need any part of you
So over you, whatever you do
Don't think I need any part of youNeed all the best of you
The falseness I despise in you
I cried in you while you slept in me
You crept in me, deceiving meDispense the truth
While you walk away
What you done won't just go away
It's coming to haunt youSo over you, whatever you do
Don't think I need any part of you
'Cause I'm so over you, whatever you do
Don't think I need any part of youSo over you, whatever you do
Don't think I need any part of you
