You know, back when I was in the academy, we would follow every toast with a song!(Klingon singing)Tis better to have loved and lost, then never to have loved at all!

Come cheer up, my lads

Come cheer up, my lads

Tis better to have loved and lost

Tis better to have loved and lost

Captain Jean-Luc Picard

Then never to have loved at all

Of the Federation starship

Come cheer up, my lads

Come cheer up, my ladsTis better to have loved and lostCaptain Jean-Luc Picard

lockWhen I have plucked the rose
Tea, Earl grey, hot
Longing still, for that which longer nurseth the disease
In faith, I do not love thee
Shall I compare thee to a summer's day?
When I have plucked the rose
Plucked the rose
Longing still, for that which longer nurseth the disease
In faith, I do not love thee
Shall I compare thee to a summer's day?Tis better to have loved and lost (ba-ba-ba ba-ba-ba-ba)
Then never to have loved at all (ba-ba-ba ba-ba-ba-ba)
Come cheer up, my lads (ba-ba)
Come cheer up, my lads (ba-ba)
Tis better to have loved and lost (ba-ba-ba ba-ba-ba-ba-ba-ba-ba)Incredibly unbroken sentence

No one had a chance to interrupt, it was quite hyptonic
