Still Life

I never said a word, to you. And on the night you said you were leaving, I wanted to cry. Because I'm just mediocre, that's what I am, in my eyes. So I never thought that it would hurt you or make you cry. But I'm not mediocre to you. I never said a word, to you. And on the night you said you were leaving, I almost died. Because I'm just mediocre, that's what I am. So I never saw that it would hurt you that I could let you leave. Because I'm not mediocre to you. But I never said a word. Now on nights I cry alone, where you can't see me. Wonder how I'll fair alone, I need you more than I need air to breath. And I think on words like failure, I know it all too well. I have changed for the worse, I know. But I can't keep you from the world; it's your life to lead. But I would if I could, and keep you here forever. I could never say, that I needed you to stay. I didn't know that's all you needed me to say. Did you really think I didn't care? I thought I wore my feelings on my sleeves. Do you think you'll like it better there? Or do you just want to be away from me. Yeah, I know that I have changed inside. I lost faith in everything. But there is one thing that will never change. I told you I would be with you forever and
