

Face the Truth

All Faces Down

hey guys what's going on? what's going wrong with the place that we call home?
what do the states hide? why do they try to chamber the truth from the worlds eyes?

we shouldn't always look away and believe what they tell us it's time to face the truth and say: Reveal all of your secrets tell us, what you are hiding tell us, how you're betraying just give me one reason why I should believe these stupid lies I am not someone you can easily betray yeah I have thoughts, I have a mind and need no laws to know what's right I just want you to be honest now with me, you'd expect the same from me the insurrections against you and your system have started the day you fall the world will bloom and yes it will happen we're giving you the chance to change. Clean up the shit you have spreaded reveal the truth and give the world everything back you have taken

just give me one reason why I should believe these stupid lies
I am not someone you can easily betray
yeah I have thoughts, I have a mind and need no laws to know what's right I just want you to be honest now with me, you'd expect the same from me

Let's go
Come on face the truth, now

just give me one reason why I should believe these stupid lies
I am not someone you can easily betray
yeah I have thoughts, I have a mind and need no laws to know what's right I just want you to be honest now with me

just give me one reason why I should believe these stupid lies
I am not someone you can easily betray
yeah I have thoughts, I have a mind and need no laws to know what's right I just want you to be honest now with me, you'd expect the same from me
