

Two To Tango

Son By Four

She was only seventeen when she walked into my life
She had head filled with dreams and she wanted to strive
She wasn't afraid to say
Or do the things to get what she wanted
And she could use and seduce a man with just one hand
It was all or nothing, that was her plan
She wanted to be free and to have it all
She didn't want to fall, fall in love with me
Then she had to see, she had to let it go
'Cause it takes only two to tango
She was only seventeen when I gave her my heart
She would look into my eyes and tell me lies
She knew what she wanted from the start
Yo la quer
