Where The Shy Little Violets Grow

Guy Lombardo

I've been making up my mind to find a place I used to know
by the old Ohio where the shy little violets grow I've been waking up to find I'm dreaming dreams of long long ago of the old Ohio where the shy little violets grow I'd love to find a little quail little wining quail
the house on the hill find somebody who, promise to be true I know she's waiting there still when I look into her eyes, they they tell me what I'm longing to know
by the old Ohio where the shy little violets grow
