

Comanche (The Brave Horse)

Johnny Horton

The battle was over at Custer's Last Stand,
And trumpets were sounding for all the brave men.
While one lone survivor, wounded and weak,
Comanche, the brave horse, lay at the General's feet.

Chorus:

Comanche you fought hard, Comanche you tried,
You were a good soldier, so hang your head up high.
For even the greatest, sometime must fall,
Comanche, you warrior, you gave your all.

Although you were silent, your deeds speak out loud.
If your buddies could see you, I know they'd be proud.
The symbol of bravery, at the Little-Big-Horn,
Comanche you warrior, you're battle scarred and torn.

Chorus:
