Message

Jesus Jones

This is a message, this is a wake up call
If you've fallen further than you thought you could fall
Go on, get up now, you screwed yourself to the floor
But you've not screwed, if you choose, anymoreThis is a message for you
You should take this call
This is a message for you
Before you fall back downHey automatic, disengage
Cut the schedule, leave the plan alone
Walk with the living, the flesh and the blood
Are waiting for you back homeThis is a message for you
You should take this call
This is a message for you
Before you fall back downAnd when the pieces get picked up
There are those edges that can cut
It's a risk you're going to takeYou've got to stop this almost-clever
Simple things should be simply said
What you believe in, if there's anything
Let it replace the mess in your headThis was a message for you
I hope you took this call
This was a message for you to stop
You falling down, back down
