False Idols

Unearth

Advisory - the following lyrics contain explicit language:

I never cared to know your name
Roll out the red, it's all the same
False idols scream for our love
Compete for stage devote for nameIt's all pathetically the same
It's all pathetically the sameConvinced of starlight beauty
A must watch all tune in
A celebration heartache
Hail, false heroesSurrender to our envy
No boundaries left untouched
No passion left for memories
No passion for real memoriesHere we stand
Here we stand
Here we standLessened are the far and few
Who sustain, protect and nurtureConvinced of starlight beauty
A must watch all tune in
A celebration heartache
Hail, false heroesSurrender to our envy
No passion left for memories
Hail, false heroesWho stands before us
We lay our lives down for the star
Who stands before us
We lay our lives down for the starWho stands before us, as we speak
We lay our lives down for the star
Who stands before us, as we speak
We lay our lives down for the starWe lay our lives down
We lay our lives down
We lay our lives down
We lay our lives downI never cared to know your name
Roll out the red, it's all the same
False idols scream for our love
Compete for stage devote for nameIt's all pathetically the same

It's all pathetically the sameHere we stand
Here we stand
Here we stand
