

Up Through the Ashes

Kamelot

So you can heal
They claim with conviction
You've got a crowd So what's your appeal
Your voice, your predictions
They're getting loud But if I let you die, you must forgive me Raise me up, up through the ashes
Take me on, into the light You want to die
Create some sensation
Be makin' the news An eye for an eye
Mocking your creation
King of the Jews Before I let you die, you must forgive me Raise me up, up through the ashes
Take me on, into the light Give a sign of remorse
(I don't need your blood)
You will hang on the cross
For playing God You, the people, must decide
The self-proclaimed prophet, or the novice murderer
The king or the convict, it's up to you
So tell me who's free to go Raise me up, up through the ashes
Take me on, into the light
Raise me up, up through the ashes
Take me on, into the light
