Far Enough

It's on my face
It's in my feelings
The scars that carry
On your nameYou fold your arms
You don't believe me
You don't like to think
You cause me painYet here I am
Your worst creation
A soulless reckless
ImbecileDon't turn away
You can't ignore it
It's what you wanted
All the whileYou've taken this far enough
You think but you're not so tough
You've taken this far enough
From meI'm getting bored
With isolation
I'm getting sick
Of all your crapYou stare me down
But you don't see me
You do the crime
I take the wrapIf someone saw this
They'd say it's crazy
If someone saw this
They'd probably lose their mindSo, now I'm done
You can't evade me
There's someone else
I need to findYou've taken this far enough
You think but you're not so tough
You've taken this far enough
FromYou've taken this far enough
I'm so sick of all your stuff

You've taken this far enough
From meYou're stuck in a fantasy
But my heart knows what's real
There's nothing left to say
MaybeMaybe I wasn't meant to be
The pure boy for reality
Look around and close your eyes
You're big now and since in disguiseYou've taken this far enough
You think but you're not so tough
You've taken this far enough
FromYou've taken this far enough
I'm so sick of all your stuff
You've taken this far enough
From
You've taken this far enough
From me
