

Fall Into Me

Hey Monday

I was looking through the chair
You were looking through the mirror
    Never met eyes
No, I've never seen clearer than now
    There's no way out
I'm tingling in places I didn't know existed
    How are things right and also twisted?
    How can we work this out?
Somehow everything in me is changing
    In the most amazing kind of way
    Every single breath you take away
    Gives me more life than before
We could be the perfect masterpiece
Baby, bring me in and fall into me
    Whenever you are near
I feel like we could do anything
    And I think we should now
    We'll take the town
Your eyes tell me something
Afraid to misread but if I'm wrong
    What if you mislead me?
    Still, it's worth the thrill
Somehow everything in me is aching
Just to hear your gentle voice again
Every single breath you take away
    Gives me more life than before
We could be the perfect masterpiece
    Baby, bring me in
    Things aren't simple anymore
    Can't jump in until you know
    But I think that I just might
Close my eyes and hold on tight
    To every single breath
    To every single breath
Every single breath you take away
    Gives me more life than before
We could be the perfect masterpiece
    Baby, bring me in
    Every single breath you take away

Gives me more life than before
We could be the perfect masterpiece
Baby, bring me in, bring me in and fall into me
