God Is All There Is

Rickie Byars Beckwith

My wings were heavy
I could not fly
Haunted by dreams that were meant to come true
Love was there; I could not see it
So the voice of Salvation came shining through you

And you said:
God is all there is
God is all there will ever be
God is all there is
God is all there will ever be

In the sky of my life
Was lightning and thunder
I never could trust it could finally be right
The truth in your eyes said â€œdonâ€™t worry, donâ€™t wander,â€•
You sang me your song that has shattered the lie

And you said,
God is all there is
God is all there will ever be
God is all there is
God is all there will ever be

And like the shepherd, you pulled me through
When my heart was troubled, I didnâ€™t know what to do
Your compassion planted a seed in my life
Now the flowers in me, all the time Iâ€™m singing
All the time Iâ€™m singing

God is all there will ever be
God is all there is
God is all there will ever be

If your wings are heavy, you can not fly
Haunted by dreams that were meant to come true
God is right there, you just have to see it!
Let the voice of Salvation come shining through you!

And just sing
God is all there is
God is all there will ever be
God is all there is
God is all there will ever be
God is all there is
God is all there will ever be
