Silence

Aly & Aj

I'll bet two years, I'll bet one year
I'll bet those years, you won't be here
I guess I'll keep, I guess you'll keep Every memory, sadly we may never be
I'll bet my tears, I'll bet your tears
I'll bet those tears over time could disappear
Wait a minute I have more to say
And I can't reminisce need to me
I need you more than you'll ever know
I still do, willing to let it show
I need a minute just to get to you
I feel like I might be getting through
Come over and say nothing
Silence is everything, oh
I know, I know
Feelings can show if you let go
It must be told, I've got a hold
On what we used to have
I will forgive if you forget
All the things we said, well, let's accept it
I need you, more than you'll ever know
I still do, willing to let it show
I need a minute just to get to you
I feel like I might be getting through
Come over and say nothing
Silence is everything
