Poison

My American Heart

One last hit for you, two pills here for me
One too many times I've felt this way about you
Here's the poison for your lungs, smoke it down 'til you throw up
Then I'll reach down to put some sense right down your throatYour poison's so played out and all the lies from your heart beating
Has left me cold, it's left me out but you can't break me down
And all the love from your heart beating
Has watched me drive out of this townI've tried to make this life have meaning for myself
But all you do is make life a living hell
So just, say no, we'll find our way home
So I search and search for the answers, these stars will lead us nowhereAnd your poison's so played out and all the lies from your heart beating
Has left me cold, it's left me out but you can't break me down
And all the love from your heart beating
Has watched me drive out of this townDrive out of this, drive out of this, drive out of this townAnd your poison's so played out and all the lies from your heart beating
Has left me cold, it's left me out but you can't break me down
And all the love from your heart beating
Has watched me drive out of this townThis poison will break you down
