

Sweet Bitter Love (Demo)

Aretha Franklin

I talked to you today, we've loved each other
For so long, in that special way
And if circumstances should keep us apart
I just want you to know
That you will remain forever, here in my heart
Sweet, sweet bitter love
The taste still lingers, though through my helpless fingers
You slipped away, ooh, yes you did
Sweet, sweet bitter love, what joy you taught me
What pain you didn't mean to but ya brought me
And so shall, baby and so shall it stay
My magic dreams have lost their spell
And where there, where there was hope
Oh, there's an empty, empty shell
Oh, sweet, my my my, my my my, my my, bitter love
Why have you awakened, ha, and then, and then you've forsaken
A trusting heart like mine, oh oh oh, oh oh, oh
My magic, oh, my magic dreams
They've all, they've all, all lost their spell
And where there, where there was a little bit of hope
Yes sir, there is, oh look at me now, there is an empty shell
Oh, sweet, my my my, my my my, my my, bitter love
Why have you awakened and then
And then and then and then and then you know, you have forsaken
A trusting heart, yeah, yeah, like mine,
A trusting heart like mine
I love you boy, yes I do,
Like mine

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>