

Sister Psychic

Smash Mouth

Sister Psychic won't you tell me does it ever get better?

Can you really see the future or just predict the weather?

Are we in our finest hour or headed for disaster?

Use your super powers and rescue me We were there at the start

We've got Polaroids to prove it

Skateboards and scars

And embarrassing home movies But if you really wanna see

Where it's all goin'

Switch on your TV

She's all tellin', all knowin' She knows everything Sister Psychic, won't you tell me does it ever get better?

Can you really see the future or just predict the weather?

Are we in our finest hour or headed for disaster?

Use your super powers and rescue me Can you help us find the ones

On the missing posters?

Is my baby being true?

Am I doin' what I'm supposed to? Could you help me find my keys

Or better yet life's meaning?

Are those tarot or dialogue

Cards that you're reading? C'mon Tell me everything Sister Psychic, won't you tell me does it ever get better?

Can you really see the future or just predict the weather?

Are we in our finest hour or headed for disaster?

Use your super powers Sister, why would I tell you my deepest, dark secrets?

So you could take my diary and rip it all to pieces

Just six ninety five for the very fist minute

I think you've won the lottery that's my prediction You know everything Sister Psychic, won't you tell me does it ever get better?

Can you really see the future or just predict the weather?

Are we in our finest hour or headed for disaster?

Use your super powers and rescue me Sister Psychic, won't you tell me does it ever get better?

Can you really see the future or just predict the weather?

Are we in our finest hour or headed for disaster?

Use your super powers and rescue me
