

If It Changes

FireHouse

Somebody wake me
There's a stranger lying next to me
And what we did last night, was it purely physical?
Or did we have some kind of chemistry? Hold me, do I feel like your reality?
Or are we dreaming
And do you see me for my true personality? So come with me
And we can find a way, yeah
Has lady luck and circumstance
Brought us both here together today And out of the blue, I've fallen for you
And I don't know what time or what day it is
If this is a dream, then just let me sleep
And don't wake me up if it changes Well, can you feel me?
Is this real or is it fantasy?
If this is make believe
Then I don't want to leave I could stay here for eternity
Tell me, does it feel like we have met before?
Some kind of deja vu, do you feel it too?
Could my soul somehow connect to yours So come with me
And we can find a way, yeah
Has lady luck and circumstance
Brought us both here together today And out of the blue, I've fallen for you
And I don't know what time or what day it is
If this is a dream, then just let me sleep
And don't wake me up if it changes And out of the blue, I've fallen for you
And I don't know what time or what day it is
If this is a dream, then just let me sleep
And don't wake me up if it changes
