

City of Hope

Amanda Cook

Once we were a barren land
Dry from disappointment
But Heaven, like a heavy rain
Revealed Your heart for us

Now we're dusting off our instruments
In You we've found our will to live
What was once a wilderness
Is teeming with new life

You are mending the broken-hearted
You are making all things new
You're rebuilding out of the ruins
A city of hope with the ones You love

Adoption is our heritage
Chosen from the orphanage
The Father's great inheritance
Bestowed upon us all

You are mending the broken-hearted
You are making all things new
You're rebuilding out of the ruins
A city of hope with the ones You love

We're the ones You love
We're the ones You love
We're the ones You love
We're the ones You love

You're rebuilding out of the ruins
A city of hope with the ones You love

You are mending the broken-hearted
You are making all things new
You're rebuilding out of the ruins
A city of hope with the ones You love
