Galileo

Amy Grant

In the year of fourteen ninety two When Columbus sailed the ocean blue

Had he landed on India's shore

You might never have come to knock on my doorWho needs a rhyme or a reason

Some dreams were made to find

So I know that I must followAsk me just how much I love you

You are starlight, I'm Galileo

Even on the darkest night, oh

I will find the shining light of our loveThrough the rain clouds thundering nights

Mr. Franklin stood there holding his kite

He was crazy, always pressing his luck

But he got what he wanted when lightning struck, yeahWho needs a rhyme or a reason

Some dreams were made to find

So I know that I must followAsk me just how much I love you

You are starlight, I'm Galileo

Even on the darkest night, oh

I will find the shining light of our loveAsk me just how much I love you

You are starlight, I'm Galileo

Even on the darkest night, oh

I will find the shining light of our loveI believe in you

And the special love we could share

And maybe one day darling you'll turn around

And all I really know is I will be there Ask me just how much I love you

You are starlight, I'm Galileo

Even on the darkest night, oh

I will find the shining light of our loveAsk me just how much I love you

You are starlight, I'm Galileo

Even on the darkest night, oh

I will find the shining light

I will find the shining light of our loveAsk me just how much I love you

I'm Galileo

Even on the darkest night, oh

I will find the shining light of our love

Ask me just how much I love you

I'm Galileo
