

The Chance

Helloween

We're living in a constant fight
Too much pressure everywhere
And all around Don't let it pull you down
Hold on tight
Cling to your dreams Don't you depend on someone else
Think for yourself and win the race The chance you got comes never twice
Do your best, (and) do it right Time will come but don't you hide
You are on your way You're led by God but you're not a pawn
Should live your life, don't care 'bout any scorn Just let them fool around
No need to cry
Don't give up Try to be as smart as you can be
I know you own so much ability
