Try to Remember

Altaria

Another young and restless soul
Trapped in a world of shattered dreams
Craving for a shelter to be warm
But there is no-one there for me

Changes of the past still hold me down
To break free
I tried to hold on to that dream
That once again will sleep away

Feels like I'm drowning in tears
Drifting away with the stream
I hear them calling my name
I am fading away

Send me down an angel
From the heavens above the earth
And i try to remember
How this live find a

We are the solid walls of stone
The fields of green so wide

Climbing a stairway made of stars
Leaving the sorrows far behind

Feels like I'm drowning in tears
Drifting away with the stream
I hear them calling my name
I am fading away

Send me down an angel
From the heavens above the earth
And i try to remember
How this live find a

Send me down an angel
From the heavens above the earth
And i try to remember

How this live find a

Send me down an angel
From the heavens above the earth
And i try to remember
How this live find a
