Right There Waiting

Nobody's Angel

Right there waiting
Right there waiting
Right there waitingWhat was I searching for, what was I trying to find
I knew there was something more waiting for me, but I didn't know why
Something was missing and something was wrong
But now that I found you I finally belongHow could I have known, guess I should've seen
All along you were right there waiting for me
Can't believe my eyes is this just a dream
All along you were right there waiting for me
Ooh ooh, right there waitingI always thought my heart wasn't quite right, but broken in two
Was missing the best part of life
'Cause something of me was lost there with you
But nothing can stop me and nobody could
'Cause now that I've found you I've found you for goodHow could I have known, guess I should've seen
All along you were right there waiting for me
Can't believe my eyes, is this just a dream
All along you were right there waiting for me
Ooh ooh, right there waitingRight there waiting
Right there waiting
Right there waiting
Right there waitingSomething was missing and something was wrong
But now that I've found you I finally belongHow could I have known, guess I should've seen
All along you were right there waiting for me
Can't believe my eyes, is this just a dream
All along you were right there waiting for meHow could I have known, guess I should've seen
All along you were right there waiting for me
Can't believe my eyes, is this just a dream
All along you were right there waiting for me
Ooh ooh, right there waitingHow could I have known, guess I should've seen
When all in all in all along you were right there waiting
How could I have known, guess I should've seen
When all in all in all along you were right there waitingHow could I have known, guess I should've seen
When all in all in all along you were right there waiting
How could I have known, guess I should've seen
When all in all in all along you were right there waitingHow could I have known, guess I should've seen
When all in all in all along you were right there waiting
