

Grace You Give Away

Kimber Rising

~Verse 1~

I look into your eyes
I used to see a light
But now it's only shadows
Careless words
That caused your heart to break
It feels like yesterday
Though it was so long ago You keep holding onto pain
Unforgiveness like a chain, but*Chorus*

Life is calling out to you
Saying you can choose
To leave the prison of this place
And you have got to let this go
I know it feels like home
But trust me, freedom waits
In the grace you give away~Verse 2~

Oh, I've wasted so much time
Holding hurt inside
I know what you're going through
It's a cruel, undending game
Always placing blame
From the safety of your solitude The battle ends inside your soul
The moment you give up control, 'cause*Chorus*

Life is calling out to you
Saying you can choose
To leave the prison of this place
And you have got to let this go
I know it feels like home
But trust me, freedom waits
In the grace you give away~*Bridge*~

They may not deserve it
But none of us are worthy, no
Of our Savior's love*Chorus*
And life is calling out to you
Saying you can choose
To leave the prison of this place
And you have got to let this go
I know it feels like home
But trust me, freedom waits

Oh, trust me, freedom waits
In the grace you give away
