

This Life (Acoustic Version)

Primer 55

You've got no self-esteem
You think you're so mistreated
You can't stand your face, you cannot
Cannot believe that you cannot control your fate This isn't what you wanted
Someone to break you down every motherfucking day
It's not the life you wanted
Someone to break you, someone to make you Bruises on your face
I guess you fell down the steps again
And that's such a shame 'cause you let it
You let it happen over and over again This isn't what you wanted
Someone to break you down every motherfucking day
It's not the life you wanted
Someone to break you, someone to make you It's just another day
The last day he touches you again
But that's the price he'll pay
Pull the trigger, it all goes away in one determined flash This isn't what you wanted
Someone to break you down every motherfucking day
It's not the life you wanted
Someone to break you, someone to make you Pray! Pray! Pray! Pray!
Close you eyes, you better
Hold em' tight, you'll never
Don't keep telling yourself it'll be alright
Don't keep telling yourself it'll be alright This isn't what you wanted
Someone to break you down every motherfucking day
It's not the life you wanted
Someone to break you, someone to make you Pray! Pray! Pray! Pray!
Close you eyes, you better
Hold em' tight, you'll never
Don't keep telling yourself it'll be alright
Don't keep telling yourself it'll be alright
