Looking For A Sign

Beck

if i ever think about you if i ever call your name put my empty arms around you let the memory die away looking out for a sign
how can i tell what?s right changing my ways to spite myself cause i still want you

if i ran across your picture if i called you by mistake and if i ask someone about you it?s a habit i can?t break
