I Should've Known

McKendree Spring

Many skies have come and brought the misty cotton clouds to me
Yes they've often helped to clear away the bitter empty thoughts from me
But now the streets wind under them they twist and fight and have control while I'm left standing by a hole made by the rain today

But I should have known better than to leave you all alone
and go searching for rainbows crystalizing into love love love

And many nights have come and brought a fog of hidden hopes to me
Yes they've often left me lying near the site of broken harmony
But ask the night to be your friend or beg it not to come somehow It leaves before you say right now You'd love to have it stay

But I should have known better
than to leave you all alone
and go searching for
rainbows crystalizing into love love love

And many seas I've seen and thought their force would be a part of me Passion in the beauty and the sound that lives so endlessly But ask the sea to be your friend or beg her ot to come somehow She leaves before you say right now You'd love to have her stay

But I should have known better
than to leave you all alone
and go searching for
rainbows crystalizing into love love love

Lyrics Submitted by papakort

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/