

Crusade

Retaliator

The drum beats loudly with the battle-steeds hooves
Banners are flying in the morning mist
To show to their people the truth must be sought
And whatever the price the battle will be fought

With the clash of irons the bloodlines were drawn
The dragon emerged the enemy's pawn
With a cry of "Attack" the beast should be slain
It's ugly horned head will not rise again

So gather the masses for this crusade
Get all men to arms and prepare to invade
They'll fight for their land and kill for their kin
With pride in their hearts they'll fight to win

With the battle now over across the plain
The valkyrie waiting to take the slain
Their battle-scarred flag aloft in the breeze
So our people could see their victory

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnllyrics.com/>