Secrets

Alice Smith

The morning after
The only laughter
Echoes from the night before
I'm feeling broken
Words already spoken
Lay crumpled
And hurt on the floorExcept for those id nurt on the HoofExcept for those

That I should not have said

Guarded secrets

Locked inside my head

Oh, what did I tell

Precious gems entrusted to me

Those were struggling to be free

Uncontrolled

From my mouth they fellOh, secrets, some mine Some his, some hers, secretsThe truth's so easy

'Cause i'm so lazy

It comes so naturally

Oops, I told him

Just where you've been

Perhaps

I should not have told himPlease in future don't burden me

With your lies and your secrecy

I deal with my own

Because from my mouth they fell

I have trouble

Keeping things on the DL

When they're not seeds

That I've sownOh, secrets, some mine

Some his, some hers, secrets

Oh, secrets, some mine

Some his, some hersThought I'd keep it

Underneath my hat

But temptation won me over

Just like that

Thank you not

For the extra guilt I got

When you said what you said

I'm just a child

Wild and free
I need the time
To take care of me
Take the time to care
For number one soPlease in future don't burden me
With your lies and your secrecy
I deal with my own
When they're the seeds
Some his, some hers
