

By the River

Eternal Tango

There's an old man singing
by the river.
His eyes are focused on the empty night.
I seek to understand the meaning of the melody. There's an old man singing
by the river.
He paused the vocal chords
and turned around.
No I am not afraid.
No I won't look away.
I will face the old man
by the river
Somehow
My body begins to shake
My body begins to shake
My body begins to shake
My body begins to shake
My body begins to shake I woke up singing this song
by the river.
Free of doubts
whispering in my head.
No i am not afraid.
No i won't look away.
There's a boy looking at me
from the river.
Should I turn around?
My body begins to shake
My body begins to shake
My body begins to shake
My body begins to shake
My body begins to shake No I am not afraid.
No I won't look away.
You've been hunting my dreams for too many nights. Stop Chasing me
chasing me
Night after night. Stop Chasing me chasing me

Stop Chasing me
Chasing me
Stop Chasing me
chasing me
Stop Chasing me
Stop chasing me
Chasing me
Stop chasing me
Chasing me
Chasing me
Chasing me
Night after night
