Dying to Know

verse1

Darkness, shadows living. All skies looking away. your heart beating for me, giving all this loneliness away. this skin touch of velvet, all these worthless imprints. solace, comforting hints, give what you take get it back get it back all the love and the hate give it back away.

chorus1

Coming down and i'm taking over, innocence giving lies tonight, all the things that you need to tell me holding lonely, Back and fourth through all the things, all the love and all the hate, taking time away from life, holding lonely roads.

verse2

broken hearted smiles, your lips singing my sin, your skin softer than, an orchid blossoming on rainy days. killing deepest secrets, calling out my regrets, your skies shining down, give what you take get it back get it back all the love and the hate give it back away.

chorus2

Coming down and i'm taking over, innocence giving lies tonight, all the things that you need to tell me holding lonely, Back and fourth through all the things, all the love and all the hate, taking time away from life, holding lonely roads
