

Headbanger's Ballroom

Masterplan

She's got fear in her mind, killing pain all the time
And the loneliness makes her feel hollow
She will stay out of sight, from the bright daylight
To forget all her troubles for a while, yeahShe just wants to dream away
Sick and tired of the games that people play
Hoping for a better day
She needs something to believe in, in a life so unrealDown to the headbanger's ballroom she will go
Seeking shelter from the storm
There she can party till the rising of the sun
A night creature on the run, oh, yeahHe comes out in the night, he is one with the moonlight
Been looking for love to rely on
She'll be painting her lips, black jade on her fingertips
Trying to catch him with a smile, yeahWhen her eyes begin to glow
There's a fire from deep down below
Getting ready for the show
She just wants to be near him
'Cause she knows he's the oneDown at the headbanger's ballroom they will dance
Finding shelter from the storm
They're not different, only dreamers on the run
Dark creatures of the sunDown at the headbanger's ballroom they will dance
Black leather witches and their boys
Where they can party till the rising of the sun
Night creatures on the run, oh, yeahHeadbanger's, headbanger's
Headbanger's ballroom
