Serious

Crash Romeo

I've been trying to forget you
But somehow I can't seem
To let you forget about me
'Cause you've moved on to better thingsI've been lying in his gutter
With my heart filled up with sulfur
So light a match and trail the gasoline
Take me down with meThis just got serious
I'm tired of giving up
And if this is true love
Why can't romance see lust?
Why can't romance see lust?There's a party in the back room
With all the girls we've been through
And I looked for you
But I guess you weren't thereI'm tired and lonely and stupid and crazy
I'm full of excuses and totally useless
My patience is fading, it's so aggravating
And I can't even stand myselfThis just got serious
I'm tired of giving up
And if this is true love
Why can't romance see lust?
Why can't romance see lust?Woah, woah, I'll drag you down forever
Woah, woah, I'm gonna drag you down forever
Woah, woah, I'm gonna drag you down forever, foreverThis just got serious
This just got serious
This just got serious
This just got seriousThis just got serious
I'm tired of giving up
And if this is true love
Why can't romance see lust?
Why can't romance see lust?
Why can't romance see lust?
