

Kerby Lane Jubilee

Jennifer Leonhardt

cumulus clouds cross the sky and they don't tell the truth added up all the numbers and they still equal two and tomorrow's another day to carry it all away and it'll still remind me of you sometimes you say nothing at all and your hands come to rest in your lap and the fuel prices are down on the outskirts of town someone's sure to be crying jack-o-lantern on the top step the curtains are packed and all un-hung and the breakfast dishes are done water boiling for tea and i'm as far as i'll ever be
