One More Night

Barbra Streisand

Every one keeps telling me I'm something I'm not
They fill me with questions, they tear me apart
But through it all, it was you who pulled me out
Please don't leave me now
Just give me one more night to hold you, one more night
Give me one more night to have you near
There's a man at the train stop
With tears in his eyes
Reminds me of so long ago, when I was able to cry
Now I'm strong, slip away and laugh along
With anyone who needs someone blue
Just give me one more night to hold you, one more night
Give me one more night to have you near
What can I say to make you stay?
I'd do anything, I'd give everything
To have just one more night to hold you, one more night
Give me one, give me one more night to have you
To have you one more night
