Longwave

Little thing, little thing
What are you gonna do
I'm drawn into your big black pool It comes in waves, it comes in waves
The waves could pull me in
I'm blocked inside your ghost again And here's the next thing
Here's the next thing In a car, in a car
It's faster than you think
In a life that covers everything Bathed in white, bathed in red
And then the red turns into black
Moving in for the next attack And here's the next thing
Here's the next thing
Here's the next thing, the next thing
It's the one that calls me back again Every time, every time
It comes and leaves a trace
And the mark is one you can't erase It always stays, always stays
Until it leaves me bare
And underneath this sea of air Here's the next thing, the next thing
It's the next thing, the next thing
It's the next thing, the next thing
It's the one that calls me back again
