What Was I Thinking?

The Briggs

Why do we torture ourselves?
This will never work, I can already tell
We're not the same, it's overWhat exactly would you like me to do?
Whitewash my words to hide the truth
Make them easier to swallow
It's not gonna happenAs entertaining as this has been Stuck in romantic destruction
It's all a mistake and it's all I can takeWell, what was I thinking?
Maybe I wasn't at all
Where were we headed
Before we dropped the ball?You're at the bar having a ball
I'm staring at my fucking hotel wall
Driven half insane with no diversionsHow much will I take before I break?
I've taken the liberty in deciding your fate
Now the damage is done
In a time of great tribulationI forgot my shovel at your grave
I'll need it back in case anyone else misbehaves
A higher power told me we can't be savedWhat was I thinking?
Maybe I wasn't at all
Where were we headed
Before we dropped the ball?What were you doing
Inside the bathroom stall?
What was I thinking?
Maybe I wasn't at all
Maybe I wasn't at allDidn't I say, didn't I say
Didn't I say I'd call?
Didn't I say, didn't I say
Didn't I say I'd call?I've been climbing up, I've been climbing up
I've been climbing the walls
I've been climbing up, I've been climbing up
I've been climbing the wallsWhat was I thinking?
Maybe I wasn't at all
Where were we headed
Before we dropped the ball?What were you doing
Inside the bathroom stall?
What was I thinking?
Maybe I wasn't at allMaybe I wasn't at all
Maybe I wasn't at all
Maybe I wasn't at all
