Recoil

I can make a perfect picture from a voice
Her serenity oozed into my ear
It didn't take long for her to know me, and I knew it felt good
"Pick me up and use me, pick me up and use me"
She was saying, she she You are nothing
You are nothing without me
You are nothing
You are nothing without me If I am taken
You think that you can live again
But you are nothing
You are nothing without me You know I'm here for you, right here for you
See I am the punished one
She, she took all the glory
She took everything, everything I had to give
Sucking it out of me But I am always gonna be here
Because I am the punished one
She took everything
She took all the glory, everything I had to give
Sucking it out of me
Sucking it out of me
Sucking it out of me You are nothing
You are nothing without me
You are nothing
You are nothing without me If I am taken
You think that you can live again
But you are nothing
You are nothing without me Without me, you're nothing
Without me, you're nothing
