Flame

Sam Phillips

Flame, why do I come so close to you?
Vain, telling me what I shouldn't do
I saw you smoldering before
I let him burn me to the floor, flameFlame, why do you paralyze my soul?
Pain, if I hold you or let go
There's nothing bluer than your heat
You make the night bleed at your feet, flameBreak my fall into this wild fire of love
Stolen from dreamsFlame, why do I dance so close to you?
Stained with the longing of a fool
When fires rise, the shadows fall
Over the edges where we crawl, flame
Flame, flame
