

Belle

Daniel Lavoie

You come on dance with me
To the end of the world Still remember your smiling face in the big crowd
Laughing, shouting and waving your hands
Staring at me instead of
Turning away to the show Blind in one eye I stood still at the outside
Yearning for solutions
While the dancers were turning
Faster and faster towards me The words in your letters I couldn't decipher
Never allowed to fall for the sun
For the rain is intended for me Come on dance with me
To the end of the world Absorbed in the lips
Of a graceful dancing princess
Too deeply affected, too bright the sun
But my shadows have always loved you Empty stage now peace of mind
Remembrance of the time instead
Save another dance only for me
Only for me You come on dance with me
To the end of the world Unvoiced my swaying promises
Unproved the impossible
I cannot fall for the sun
The rain is intended for me
