

Melody to Accompany a Stroll Through a Park

Echo Orbiter

Proudly lifting motionless thoughts
Store away the madness for another day
Eyes will open very beautifully
Reveal a feeling lost somewhere along the way

I've known nothing or no one more wonderful and lovely

Under the sunshine
Laughing all the while
I have learned to smile
Warm as the spring air
Eternally prepared
Today has given me life

All but one little daffodil
Paints the park that we will always remember
Today will surely stand the test of time
We could not have picked a better day to share

I've known nothing or no one more wonderful and lovely
