

Naked Man

Lachi

Naked man, where are all your cloths?
You stand free and owardly honest as we all stand and pose.
Naked man, you are not afraid
You are unmasked by what they feed you and unmoved by what they say

And after all is said and done and over, find I'm not the one and only soul screaming out,
"Well I gotta get outta these cloths."

Naked man, what am I to do?
To be open and strong yet simple, to be more like you
Naked man, you stand so firm.
Your resilience I aspire to and from you I learn.

And after all is said and done and over, find I'm not the one and only soul screaming out,
"Well I gotta get outta these clothes."

Gotta take my shoes off and walk the line.
Gotta take my had off and free my mind.
Gotta take my cloths off and all the rest, judge me on what's left.

And after all is said and done and over, find I'm not the one and only soul screaming out,
"Well I gotta get outta these clothes."

Naked man. Naked man.
