

Hymn and Her

Earlimart

If I ever get to sleep
I'll be deep inside my dreams where no one bothers me These things are not what they seem Falling backwards through the foreword strange and beautifullySo won't you just leave me be Leave me here safe and warm simple and trouble-freeBut I am just mumbling That the words hang in the air and bring you back to me'Cause tonight I'm going back to where we started from
And tonight I'm going back to where we both belong'Cause tonight I'm going back to where we started from
In the dream that we were dreaming, yeah, we fell in love'Cause tonight I'm going back to where we started from from Yes, tonight I'm going back to where we both belongIf I ever get to sleep
I'll be deep inside my dream
Just you and me
