

Hard Road

Karl Valentine

It's a hard road
in this life you chose
and you feel so cold
when your on your own

Say goodbye my friend seems we've reached the end don't forget my name
cause memories always fade

I spent eighteen years on that ghetto fringe
and those city streets they're pounding in my veins

Yes the day will come count them one by one when this road will end into the Promised Land

There's this voice i hear whispering in my ear
It says: "welcome home!"
you can now let go

Karl James Valentine © 1999

Lyrics submitted by Karl Valentine.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>