New Design

Motograter

I woke up today
Didnt feel like i had slept at all
Just another restless night
Such a reckless life
I wish that i could take it slow
Live it simple day by day
But theres always something new
Something IN THE WAY
Id like to change the hands of time
Start over Someone and rewind
Break ground and build a new design
Start over leave this all behind
Thumbing through the paper
Its the same old black and white
One man gets to live
And a dozen have to die
The reality do we create
We cross the lines we love to hate
Something we see everyday
But we ALWAYS CHOOSE TO LOK AWAY
Id like to change the hands of time
Start over someone and rewind
Break ground and build a new design
Start over leave this all behind
The times have changed
But were still the same
The cycle just repeats itself
It goes on and on
The times have changed
But were still the same
The cycle just repeats itself
It goes on and on and on
On and on and on
Creeping down the boulevard
Among the walking dead
Amount to nearly everything
Excepting WHAT THEY SAID
Id like to change the hands of time
Start over someone and rewind

Break ground and build a new design
Start over leave this all behind
The times have changed
But were still the same
The cycle just repeats itself
It goes on and on
The times have changed
But were still the same
