Grounded

Cavo

If only for the moment now the moments gone you swear you watch the best things fade awayyou stole yourself from insecure to make your lie and never planned on ending up this waybut doesn't it just kill you to know their coming back againso what would you do if the weight of the world was keeping you grounded. oohwell I could be the highest point of any sky and I can tell your dealing with the pain and nothing changed or maybe just the most in us I never planned on ending things this waybut doesn't it just kill you to know their coming back aroundso what would you do if the weight of the world was keeping you groundedall the strength that you found in this world couldn't save you
I could save youdid you figure out there's something more then finding yourself on the ground can you make it past what you ignore all the things they lovenothing changed but maybe just the most in us I never planned on ending things this waybut doesn't it just kill you
to know their coming back aroundso what would you do if the weight of the world was keeping you groundedall the strength that you found in this world
couldn't save you
I could save youwhat would you do if the weight of the world was keeping you groundedall the strength that you found in this world
couldn't save you
I could save you

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/