Kama

Abhishek Ray

Today, love takes on a whole new meaning
In a face, I know I've seen somewhere before
And somehow, the mystery is over, yet, just begun
To see the most perfect thing, together, we've ever doneSo what do we call this miracle we've made?
And how can I find one word to say it?
When all I'm feeling, here and now, is love
So that will always be you, KamaToday, I just wrote a song about you
And the words, they flow just like the air I breathe
The closest I've ever been to truly understanding
The closest we'll ever be to the meaning of life so sacredSo what do we call this miracle we've made?
And how can I find one word to say it?
When all I'm feeling, here and now, is love
So that will always be you, KamaAnd every language has a word
But the meaning is always the same
Love is all you've got, to start out in the world
And love is all that remainsSo what do we call this miracle we've made?
And how can I find one word to say it?
When all I'm feeling, here and now, is love
So that will always be you, KamaWhat do we call this miracle we've made?
How can I find one word to say it?
When all I'm feeling, here and now
Is love

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/