Belong

Cary Brothers

wake up lonely with you by my side one more night it doesn't feel there are movies playing in your eyes you dream of our fortunes but you're wrong.
i don't belong to you
the moon is the only friend i have outside one more drink & i'll be healed i told you the words & then knew it was a lie i wish i could offer an appeal you're wrong

what i'd give for that first night when you were mine tried with all that i have to keep you alive i wasn't taught this way with a thousand things to say i was born with a broken heart what i'd give for that first night you were mine so i'll put this cigarette to bed pull some sheets from off your side i put my arm around you safe in the night still dreaming of fortune
but you're wrong
i don't belong.
