Helvetia

Deep, deep within the fog, a captivating voice echoes
Come, come, until you're deeper into the heart of the forest
Hurry, hurry, you'll only get closer if you're quick
Come, come, now isn't it fun?
Let the games begin

The cinnamon stick is a magic wand
With just one flick the syrup will swell
Into a dream so sweet you'll forget you knew bitterness
Sheltered by the canopy
You'll fall deep asleep

It's okay to be lost, mesmerized by mirages
If you loosen the blindfold it won't be fun
Watch your step! I'll take you by the hand
So, right away
Entrust yourself to me

For some time the blade of doubt has been fading in and out
The mercy of love has no place here
Through a slit in the blindfold you peeped
And saw the shadows cast by the lantern
Suddenly, your hair stands on end

My my, what a wicked child! You're already awake?
If the blindfold came off, then shall I blind you?
Come now, smile! Let's see that precious face
Slip back into your skin and go back to the show

"...Hey, give me some?"

What happened to make your eyes so wide? Your body is trembling
Shall I bring you some warm milk?
Now now, come inside! It's very warm in here
The stuff from your pockets will be enough in return

Give me something, hurry, hurry
Hey c'mon, right away
Abandon the notion of having a choice

We'll lure you in with lies, so just slurp the sweet honey
Give me some, hey now, hand it over, right now

Right now!
